Technologies. Business. NEXT.

Explore possibilities at Asia's best global Lifesciences forum

BIOASIA 2013 opens its tenth edition with the vibrant theme of "Technologies. Business. NEXT" with its core focus on Biologics. After the tremendous response to BioAsia 2012 with the arching theme of Optimizing Opportunities, BioAsia 2013 intends to reiterate its position as Asia's biggest technology and business platform in Lifesciences.

Biologics – The NEXT big business opportunity

Consider this:

- There are significant opportunities for biologics manufacturing in Asia, a promising market with relatively low costs and best in class infrastructure that is attracting significant interest from major biopharma companies. The biologics sector in Asia has been further fueled by the increase in partnerships between various organizations
- Around 1100 pharma companies exist in India today, and are developing a large portfolio of biologics and biosimilars, making India look into the global opportunity of becoming the world leader in biologic development
- Indian Biologics market – 3rd largest in Asia Pacific
- Estimated worth – US$ 2 billion (2010) and growing
- Investments in innovative biotechnology primarily focused on manufacturing and commercialization

BioAsia 2013 offers the promise of unmatched opportunities for sharing and enriching initiatives in Technologies and Research, explore profitable business opportunities and show the way forward to maximize the immense potential offered by Biologics.

BioAsia 2013 will reach out to as many as 50 countries across the world and give you the unique opportunity to get on a dynamic and future-oriented global paradigm. Choose to make the most of potential opportunities.
